Building on our 100-year legacy as a world leader in diabetes care, we are expanding our commitment into several therapy areas, including obesity and cardiovascular disease. We are on a relentless mission to drive change for millions of people living with chronic diseases. We need people like you to join us on this mission and take Novo Nordisk into the future.

Turn your master's degree into a global career

Our global Graduate Programme is designed to bring together change makers with a diversity of perspectives and equip them with the tools needed to accelerate their personal and professional development. The two-year programme allows you to explore the world while developing your career. You will be taken on three to four rotations around the globe where you will work in a fast-paced environment and grow in ways you never could have imagined. You will be exposed to the entire Novo Nordisk value chain while being challenged to explore your boundaries and reach your full potential.

After successfully completing the programme, you will have the necessary professional and personal skills to embark on your global career with the guarantee of a position at Novo Nordisk.
