

The ZAV-International Service, a department of the Federal Employment Agency in cooperation with EURES, recruits and supports employees from abroad interested in taking up employment in Germany.

For a company near Hamburg we are looking for motivated and flexible

Mechatronics technician for refrigeration

Place of work: Hohenaspe Hamburg area

Your tasks:

Installation, maintenance and repair of chillers, compound systems, air conditioning split and VRF systems.

smooth site organization as well as working independently both on site and at the customer's home

commissioning and quality control of installed equipment and components

Your profile:

Completed training as an mechatronics technician for refrigeration or comparable training.

Ideally, first professional experience in the described area of responsibility

Valid driving licence class B or BE

Basic knowledge of german language

And this is what we offer you:

collegial and positive working atmosphere

modern work equipment, work clothes, company car

participation in the qualitrain program

opportunities for further education and training

pay that is above the standard pay scale and commensurate with performance

The company:

- offers assistance in dealing with authorities
- will help you find an accommodation
- has experience in the integration of different nationalities
- cooperates with the Federal Employment Agency and ZAV

The ZAV-International Service supports your job-seeking in Germany. We are a department of the German Federal Employment Agency. Our services are free of charge. Citizens of EU-Member states may have the possibility to receive financial support (e.g. travel expenses).

Please contact us: ZAV.Customer-Center-114@arbeitsagentur.de

Reference Number: 10000-1187921159-S

HWT 021