

PROCESS OR ANALYTICAL CHEMIST TO SWEDEN

About us

With a flexible and service-orientated organization develop, produce and provide global markets with high-quality precision wire with focus on long-term business relationships characterized by high technology and niche needs. In Luma's "micro(n)world" everything starts with the customer. Creating long-lasting "sustainable" customer relationships lie in the nature of our business because it often takes a long time to create products according to our customers' demands.

We are now looking for a Chemist to join our team. We believe this is a person with university level or similar in chemistry related subjects, wants to be part of a technical journey with a small company, where the individual and the team are important.

Main tasks

- Production all plating-related electrolytes/chemistry. Analyzes and maintenance of existing baths. Understanding and ability to correlate process-plating parameters, product quality as well as bath properties.
- Quality improvement and streamlining.
- New development and improvement of existing electrolytes/process baths.
- Lab and its organization and purchasing.
- Contact and collaboration with suppliers, travel.
- Communication with production.

Important personal characteristics:

- Orderly, structure in work and in the workplace, lab
- Personal drive, own initiative
- Able to report both in writing and orally, in English
- Social competence and being able to fit into the small company, being flexible and adaptable to the situation.

Type of contract: permanent

Working hours: full time, 40 hours a week

Salary: individual salary based on Swedish Collective Agreements, 4000-4500 EUR gross.

Accommodation: we do not have accommodation to our staff but we can help you find one.

How to apply?

Send your CV and a motivation letter in English to ulrik.palmqvist@luma-metall.se and a copy to eures.nordicos@sepe.es

About Kalmar

Kalmar is a modern university city that also offers a rich history and a lot of charm. Here past and present meets, as well as relaxation and pulse. In Kalmar there is something for everyone, regardless of you choose to live in the center or in the beautiful countryside. And wherever you are, you feel close to the sea, but also to the rest of Europe. From Kalmar-Öland Airport, Europe you can easily get to Europe and the rest of the world.